

The Bark

TreeLink News ~ March 2008

In This Issue

- Solar vs. Trees
- Satellite Images Boost Cities Tree Efforts
- Quotable
- Local Tree Organizations Appear at Foo Fighters Shows

Foo Fighters Renew Support of TreeBanks

Now that the Foo Fighters have cemented their place as a powerhouse hard rock band by winning both the Best Hard Rock Performance and Best Rock Album awards at the 2008 Grammys, they have demonstrated their commitment to urban forestry by renewing their sponsorship of the TreeBank program for the second leg of their North American tour set to begin in Seattle on July 9th. Foo Fighters community page. There are now 38 TreeBanks in 26 states and Canada with many others lined up to join!

Quick Links

- TreeLink
- TreeBank
- Foo Fighters

Join Our Mailing List!

Battle Pits Solar Energy Against Trees

By David Gorn

A homeowner in San Francisco asked his neighbor to chop down his redwood trees because their shadow is interfering with his solar panels. The neighbor refused. The feud has ended up in court, and the results could have ramifications statewide. NPR's Morning Edition.

Growing trend: Vermont scientists use satellite images, analysis to boost cities' tree efforts

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP) - Increasingly, trees are the new must-have for American cities. Some prodded by environmental awareness, some by regulatory edict, they're stepping up tree plantings in hopes of improving air quality, reducing energy consumption and easing storm water flows.

Quotable... People who will not sustain trees will soon live in a world which cannot sustain people. -- Bryce Nelson

Ultimate List of Tree Quotes

Local Organizations Appear at Foo Fighters Shows

The Texas Trees Foundation had prime real estate at the Foo Fighters show in Dallas. Here's a picture of their booth staffed by Marjorie Webb, Lucia Alba, and Amy James. The Foos are

